

2.

(4)

The background or setting	The characters	The problem or conflict that arises	The climax or turning point	The conclusion or ending
The streets of a township called Alexandra.	Three activist girls. Mrs Chauke, a neighbour. The trash-pig. The judges of the competition.	Everyone in the street is co-operating to keep the street clean so they can win the competition, except for one person who throws his rubbish out at night when no one can see him.	The moment when the trash-pig comes out to throw out his rubbish in the street and he sees and hears the "monster", which is made out of his rubbish.	The trash-pig leaves the street and the street wins the competition. They have a street party to celebrate.

3. The girls felt proud and they enjoyed themselves cleaning up. (1)
4. The girls were shocked and disappointed. (1)
5. Gugu means that they will achieve two of their goals at the same time, with one action. (3)
6. a) The cartoonist shows his hair standing on end and his eyes are huge. (2)
- b) They are shown with lines coming from the recorder, and the words 'Grrrr!' and 'Rrrubbissh!'. The sound effects seemed to come from the statue, making it even more frightening. (2)
- c) They meant that he only understood throwing rubbish down, so they used his own rubbish, made into a statue, to frighten him. (2)
7. A - He left the area and was never seen again. The picture shows this in the detail. (2)
8. Accept any suitable answer such as: They are very successful because the street won the prize, except that the trash-pig might go elsewhere and mess that place up as well./I would try harder to make him see sense and become green himself. (2)
9. Accept any suitable answer such as: A comic strip story has pictures, while a story told in words has only words. I prefer reading a comic strip because the pictures are more like real life. (2)

Total: 15 marks

Answers: Work with sentences

The early bird catches the worm. d) People who are early or on time have an advantage.
Birds of a feather flock together. c) People with similar interests tend to spend time with each other.
We had a bird's-eye view. a) We could see the scene from above.
She eats like a bird. b) She has a very small appetite.

Answers

1. Definition paragraph - C
2. Introductory paragraph - B
3. Main body of story - D
4. Concluding paragraph - A